Debora Fajer-Smith brings her decades of experience and passion to preparing a custom legal plan for each individual client, explaining options, and then fighting for their rights and benefits.

Debora believes it is important to listen to her clients. Named a Leader in the Law by the Daily Record and being inducted into the American Bar Association College of Workers' Compensation, she commands the respect of her colleagues, and that makes a vital difference in reaching the best resolution for her clients.

Year after year, she has been voted by her peers into Best Lawyers in personal injury. Named Top 150 Plaintiff lawyers by BENCHMARK, she often represents families of clients, in multiple generations. Debora believes it is the ultimate note of appreciation when her clients continue to recommend her and refer her new clients.
