

Consumer Law

Consumer laws are designed to protect individuals against fraud, misrepresentation, and deception when purchasing a product, goods, or services. In the event of wrongdoing, JGL litigates consumer law claims at the state and federal court levels, yielding impressive results for the individuals who have been harmed or deceived.

We are known for resolving unusual, challenging, and complex civil cases involving:

- Consumer protection violations including fraud, deceit, and unfair trade practices
- Real estate fraud, representing home buyers in real estate or home loan claims of overcharging, misrepresentation, and fraud under statutes such as the federal Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA)
- Construction litigation, representing homeowners and businesses who suffered damages due to fraud/misrepresentation by builders, sellers, and real estate professionals
- Data breach litigation, including large class actions by individuals, financial institutions, credit card companies, and other businesses impacted by a data breach
- Class actions on behalf of large groups of individuals who suffered the same or similar injuries from the defendant's conduct and/or illegal business practices
